Paying a high price for clothes does not guarantee quality. This program shows what to look for in clothing, and how to test clothing before buying. Learn what four questions to ask before you buy, how to evaluate a garment's fabric and lining, and what high-quality seams, hems and pockets look like. Examine "vanity sizing" and how to buy the right size, what care labels can tell you about clothes they are on, and what frequent sales may mean.

Why We Wear What We Wear

Personal style is one reason we wear what we wear. It isn’t the only reason, though. Go on a clothing scavenger hunt with a group of teens. As they open the closet doors of all kinds of people, they discover there are many reasons people choose certain types of clothing. Viewers will begin to understand how comfort, lifestyle, climate, occupation, age, culture, and cost as well as personal style, all influence our decisions about what we wear.
