This short video will provide teachers with an overview of a visual arts Program that integrates the artistic application of multi-media Technology, as well as the potential of multi-media as a teaching/learning tool within and beyond the visual arts Program. The project enabled the students to learn about: Color Theory, graphics and art, animation, video production, and desktop publishing. Kit includes a video and teachers guide.

No Other Versions Available